

In the Supreme Court of the State of Alaska

James L. Galaktianoff,

Petitioner,

v.

State of Alaska,

Respondent.

Supreme Court No. S-17392

Order

Petition for Hearing

Date of Order: 5/15/19

Court of Appeals No. A-12242

Trial Court Case No. 1CR-12-00236CR

Before: Bolger, Chief Justice, Winfree, Stowers, Maassen, and Carney, Justices.

James Galaktianoff petitions for hearing from a court of appeals' memorandum opinion affirming his conviction for sexual abuse of a minor. He argues that the court of appeals overlooked a question he raised in his appellate briefing: whether the minor waived her privilege in her counseling records when she signed a release in order to provide the records to the superior court under seal. In response, the State argues that this issue is subsumed in the court's conclusion that Galaktianoff did not make the foundational showing necessary to require in camera review of the records.

The failure to address a briefed issue is not one of the listed grounds for granting a petition for hearing under Appellate Rule 304. But an appellate court may grant a petition for rehearing under Appellate Rule 506(3) if it has "overlooked or misconceived a material question in the case." So it appears that Galaktianoff should have addressed his arguments to the court of appeals in a petition for rehearing.
